realising success®
the better Enterprise Tool for Transformation and Optimisation

Are you using traditional tools to capture, model and communicate?

Are you having to contend with poor integration, disparate sources of information, high maintenance and disengaged stakeholders?

There is a new world view in enterprise and business architecture that lets you quickly generate models and diagrams, glue all of the disparate pieces that you work with together, and gets a higher level of buy-in from stakeholders.
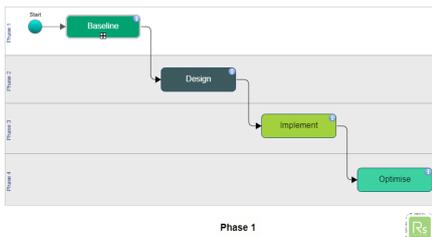

It is the solution for aligning Strategy, Structures, People, Process, Technology and Information.

What makes it different?

At the core is the proven realising success® framework, a comprehensive knowledge library of models, diagrams, checklists, templates and step by step guides, combined with a Gartner® rated eBPM platform; giving you the complete tool set that you need to get you from where you are today to where you need to be.

It uses a phased approach giving you all the components you need to get your job done. The more you use it the more valuable it becomes. It allows you to reuse work done in the past so every project or initiative becomes faster to implement with less risk and lower cost.

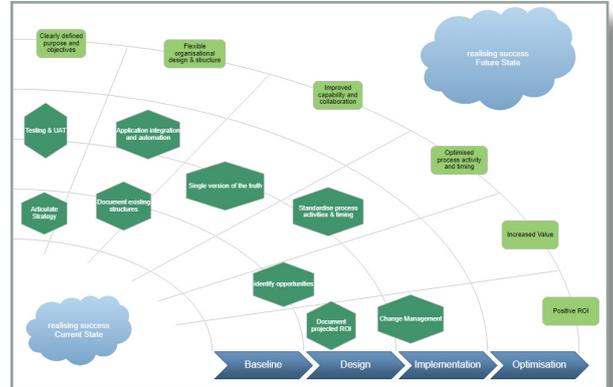

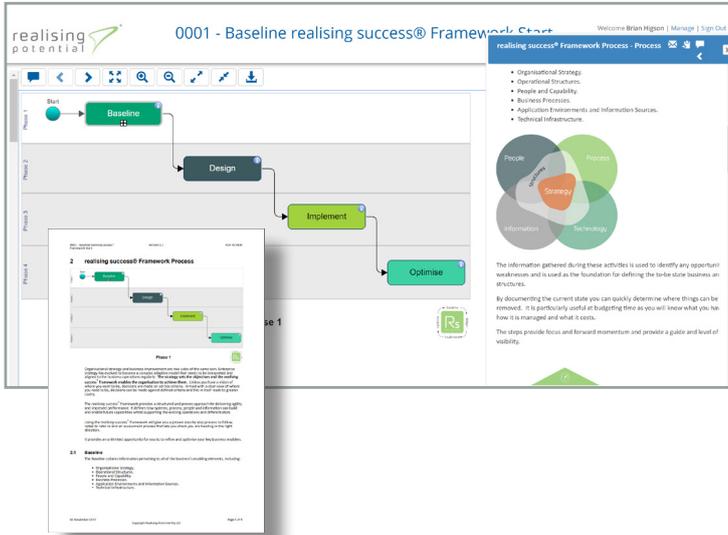

Your team and stakeholders become empowered and more effective as they no longer need to waste time and effort looking across disparate systems to find the information they need.

Smart shared business models prevent people from having to ask how they do things. You can share, review, comment and collaborate in real time.

You get understanding and insight from one solution.

Quick and easy document creation

The system lets you produce documentation at the click of a button in PDF, HTML or MS Word formats. Using old ways it could take up to two days to produce the same level of documentation, now you can do it in less than two minutes. You also have complete version control and change audit logging.

Call us today about subscribing to the better toolset

If you want to deliver better, faster results and see what a difference a new world view can make then contact us about subscribing today. As a subscriber this is what you gain access to:

• Collaboration
• Master Classes
• On-line resources
• Access to Member only library
• Templates
• Models and Diagrams

• Support if you need help
• Consulting exertise
• 2 round table sessions a year

Exclusive On-Line Resources

Access to Experts

Step By Step Maps

realising success®

• Models and instructional notes to guide you
• Technology which will allow you to collate more company data with each subsequent project
• A universal celar and unambiguous understanding of your business

Testimonial

This is what one client has to say about their experience using realising success®

"We engaged Realising Potential to assist us in defining a baseline architecture for our business. The Realising Success framework was a valuable tool and process to:

• Bridge the gap between IT jargon and technical diagrams and put it into terms that enabled management to see the business value being delivered by IT.

• Provide a pathway for consolidating our disparate technologies into a focused set of tools that complement each other rather than overlap each other – thus reducing system noise and complexity.

In addition Jackie and her team brought a wealth of external experience to ensure we challenged our existing paradigms and existing IT solutions in the ever changing world of ICT systems for business".

Mark Wilson
Company Secretary
Inserve

www.realisingpotential.com.au

info@realisingpotential.com.au